Multi-cultural Policy

Australia is an increasingly multi-cultural society and as we recognise more cultural and ethnic diversity, it is imperative we lead children in recognising and respecting similarities and differences in cultures. The cultural beliefs signified within Warradale Community Children's Service and wider community helps to form the foundation of the program being implemented to ensure we are promoting an inclusive environment for all children.

National Quality Standard (NQS)

Quality Area 1: Educational program and practice
1.1.1	Approved learning framework	Curriculum decision-making contributes to each child's learning and development outcomes in relation to their identity, connection with community, wellbeing, confidence as learners and effectiveness as communicators.
1.1.2	Child-centred	Each child's current knowledge, strengths, ideas, culture, abilities and interests are the foundation of the program.
1.1.3	Program learning opportunities	All aspects of the program, including routines, are organised in ways that maximise opportunities for each child's learning
1.2.2	Responsive teaching and scaffolding	Educators respond to children's ideas and play and extend children's learning through open-ended questions, interactions and feedback.
1.2.3	Child directed learning	Each child's agency is promoted, enabling them to make choices and decisions that influence events and their world
Quality Area 3: Physical Environment
3.2	Use	The service environment is inclusive, promotes competence and supports exploration and play based learning
3.2.1	Inclusive environment	Outdoor and indoor spaces are organised and adapted to support every child's participation and to engage every child in quality experiences in both built and natural environments.

Aim

To develop affirmative attitudes, concepts and beliefs towards the acceptance of diversity and disparate cultures.

Implementation

Leadership will ensure:

- That child-rearing practices reflect cultural context.
- That all children and families are treated equally and fairly and with respect always.
- Warradale Community Children's Centre creates and maintains links with local culturally diverse communities.
- A sense of inclusion for all families will be embraced within the Centre.
- There is specific programming and cultural awareness experiences, identifying similarities and differences and learning about cultural celebrations.
- The Centre builds and maintains cultural resources.
- Encourage children, families, and staff to respect and value others, including those who are different from themselves.
- Children, staff, and family's cultural backgrounds are reflected in developing routines and program consistent with best practice and positive outcomes for all stakeholders.
- Communication for families can be translated into their home language when required.
- Encourage educators to attend professional learning opportunities to develop a better understanding of cultural diversity.
- Acknowledge the unique cultural and social perspectives of each family.
- Ensure that all children and families have equal access to the Centre, and are welcomed and respected regardless of race, culture, colour of skin, socioeconomic status, ability, family composition, belief systems or lifestyles.
- Encourage positive attitudes towards differences in appearance, culture, and lifestyle.
- Ensure and Aboriginal and Zenedth Kes (formally know as Torres Strait Islander) perspectives are embedded into our daily practices, and we uphold our commitment to reconciliation as outlined in our Reconciliation Action Plan
- Adhere to the Code of Ethics.

Educators will:

- Encourage children to respect and value others, including those who are different from themselves.
- Ensure children do not exclude others based on differences such as race, sex, or ability.
- Ensure that the self-identity of each child is valued and respected.
- Encourage children to explore and accept diversity.
- Challenge bias and stereotypes.
- Provide an inclusive environment.
- Address bias or comments about difference.
- Model inclusive practices.
- Ensure privacy and confidentiality is maintained.
- Use unbiased language – avoid racist, sexist, discrimination, stereotyped remarks.
- Ensure own interactions are responsive to all children in the service.
- Demonstrate respect for all children and families.
- Ensure all displays, posters, children's books, and other materials are monitored to ensure they are inclusive of all people.
- Be sensitive to specific cultural behaviour or dress, which may be different to their own beliefs.
- Ensure each child's current knowledge, ideas, culture, abilities, and interests are consistently incorporated and actively drive all aspects of the program.
- The development of strong foundations in the culture and language of the service families and in that of the broader community, without compromising their cultural identities.

Multi-Cultural Procedure

There are many ways of living, being and of knowing. Children are born belonging to a culture, which is not only influenced by traditional practices, heritage, and ancestral knowledge, but also by the experiences, values and beliefs of individual families and communities. Respecting diversity means within the curriculum valuing and reflecting the practices, values, and beliefs of families. Educators honour the histories, cultures, languages, traditions, child rearing practices and lifestyle choices of families. They value children's different capacities and abilities and respect differences in families' home lives. (Early Years Learning Framework)

When early childhood educators respect the diversity of families and communities, and the aspirations they hold for children, they can foster children's motivation to learn and reinforce their sense of themselves as competent learners. They will do this by:

1. Gathering background information during children's enrolment and orientation, giving insight into the child and family's beliefs, values, and traditions.
2. Using information resources (internet, books etc) to research cultures and traditions.
3. Making connections with local cultural groups/organisations.
4. Building centre resources, (including books, activities and experiences, wall displays etc) as a means to intentionally teach the children about various cultures.
5. Pronouncing and spelling children's names correctly.
6. Finding out which festivals are important to children and families.
7. Using resources from the children and families.
8. Inviting families to volunteer their time to extend multicultural learning of children and Educators.
9. Advocating and supporting the maintenance of the family's home language in conjunction with their wishes.
10. Providing children with the opportunity to explore the multi-cultural resources at their leisure. Building on the children's knowledge through open discussions.
11. Information about special celebrations will be posted to families through Storypark.
